

Lockdown – the sequel

Yes, we'd all hoped to be in a different place by now, but the Covid variant has made that impossible for the present, though the posse is riding in with the approved vaccines. In the meantime, please do follow the government's regulations:

'Stay at home: This is the single most important action we can all take to protect the NHS and save lives.

You must not leave your home unless necessary.

Stay 2 metres apart from anyone not in your household or bubble.'

Further information can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/national-lockdown-stay-at-home>

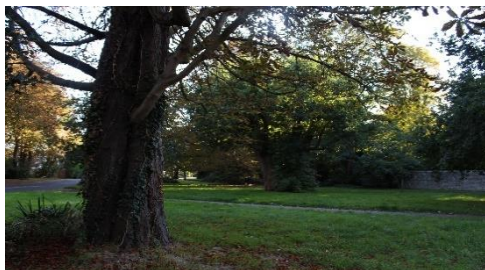

Useful shopping List

For those who are shielding or who simply want to avoid the shops, we are reissuing our list of local suppliers on our website. Here you can find information on how to shop safely from your home. The list will help you find everything from food to pet care locally. Some suppliers may have changed their services since the last lockdown and if so, we apologise. Let us know and we'll alter the list accordingly. You can find the list on the front page of our website.

Reasons to be Cheerful

It can be easy to slump into a slough of despond given the current challenges we face, but we are so lucky to live in as beautiful and friendly place as Aldwick. Here are just a few of the reasons to be cheerful this February!

Our pictures show: The Aldwick Duck Pond; The Beach at Aldwick and some of the trees for which we are well known. Take a walk and you'll see the first signs of Spring already appearing under their cover. Yes, the photo of the beach was taken in summer, but that will soon be with us, as will more carefree times. Meanwhile, let's all enjoy our lovely home.

Remember, you can join our meetings by checking out the number and password on the agendas which are published on our website. The offices are now closed, but you can contact us by emailing clerk@aldwickparishcouncil.gov.uk So don't be a stranger!
